Government Bonne—Steady, except new time for the past few months in composing a drama, which he has just completed. Having taking out a convright, he pleted. Having taking out a copyright, he handed the manuscript to a reporter of the Telegraph for perusal. The plot is pretty well constructed in the most approved blood and thunder style, and evidences rather original ability in the writer. The following from the first page of the cover gives the dramatis personse.

CARICATURES IN THE DRAMA Gentleman
His Setrotiel
An Obio Farmer
An African ark Star, ob Manks, ir Viliars oustable Williams... The first scene is laid in a cottage yard, which Nellie enters, and noticing Arthur,

Why, good evening, Arthur; where "Why, good evening, Arthur; where did you come from?"
Arthur—From the Poplar tree.
Nettle—I have been watching you feeding those domestic pets until I became almost jelons to the lowel-] begone, thou feathered faverits, I would Usam all the attention of this fairy for a moment. Shubegone. Shoo, shoo.
Nettle—Oh, Arthur, you are scaring all oy pets.

Arthur—I have not scared my pet yet,

Arthur—I have not scared my pet yet, I see.

The next scene discovers the "constituent" villains discussing a proposition from the chief villain, Sterling, to abduct the heroine of the first act if she should refuse a proposal of marriage which Sterling is about to make. Sterling offers $100 for the job, but the rest make him increase the fee to three times that sum.

In the next scene Arthur is made to "pop the question" in this dialogue:

Arthur—I am going to Europe, Nettie. I don't know how long I will stay. It may be a year and it may be more, but I cannot be a year and it may be more, but I cannot go willingly until you have promised me mething. Nettie—If my refusal to promise you, Nettie—If my refusal to promise you, Arthur, will prevent you from going, I shall not promise.

Arihur—Nettie, your promise would not prevent me from geing, but it might prevent me from ever returning.

Nettie—What do you mean?

Arthur—I mean there would be naught to return for.

"Nettie—Arthur, why speak thus in riddles, do you doubt my love for you, think you I could refuse to promise you any thing in my power to fulfill?

"Arthur—We are lovers and have been such for one year past; yet it is but now that the Crises of our destiny as lovers has came; I am about to leave America, I know net what events may take place during my stay in Europe, where I am bound, but of one thing I hope to be assured; it is this: Will you be my wife! Will you wait for me?"

The promise is given, and, with it, the is this: Will you be my wife!! Will you wait for me?"

The promise is given, and, with it, the consent of the "Ohio Farmer," a. d. in the next act appears the bose villain, who comes to the point in the following style:
Sterling—"Then I will to the point at once. We have been acquainted for some time, and my frequent calls upon you have been indications of my esteem for you. Allow me to word my admiration as follows: I have been charmed by your beauty, fascinated by your manners, and have actually fallen in love with you.
Nettle (scornfully)—Sir, you will please abridge preparatory compliments, and to the point at once.

string—As I have said, I love, what will satisfy love? What will bring contentment to the heart where love is longing for the sympathy, (rising and walking towards Nettie) Nettie you understand me, you know the favor I would ask, do you raturn that love, do you—"

The "villain" of course gets the mitten the becomes insolent ard has to be helped out the door by Plato, the "African." But he has his revenge, and this is de rouses the old farmer, who is made to de-iver himself as follows:

near the "sub" on the gang, "African," Chicago grain sho part of the hands of the brawny "African," Chicago grain sho part of the hands of the brawny "African," Chicago grain sho part of the hand is hurled over a precipice. The plot, as reported by John M. Hoon & Co., brokers, and is hurled over a precipice. The plot, of course, ends with a happy reunion of the bad. As far as possible all extracts have been given verbatim.

night and Sunday, which were very much needed.

Muddy Creek Furnace, about six miles from this place, is now running full blast, giving employment to quite a number of hands. It is a "charcoal cold blast furnace," and its iron brings a higher price than that of "hot blast" furnaces.

The nominations at Chicago meet with our hearty approval here, and as Preston is a Republican county she may be expected to give a thousand majority for the Republican nominees.

For State Senator, Mr. Dawson of the Journal seems to be the choice of the people. He is a gentleman of experience; is a level-headed and south Republican candidates for nomination, the leading ones being H. E. Cale and W. F. King. Mr. King's friends urge his nomination because he was elected before the the new Constitution was ad pted, and that cut him out of two years office. People do not talk much of the minor offices, thinking them of little importance.

This secret of health is the power to eat, digest, and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. This can never be the case while impurities exist in the system. The Blood must be purified; it is the vital principle, ramifying through every partof the body. Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills expels all impurities and vitalises the whole system.

The Liver is more frequently the seat of disease than is generally supposed, for upon its regular action depends, in a great measure, the powers of the stomach, bowels, brain, and the whole nervous system. Regulate that important organ by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator, and you prevent most of the diseases that flesh is heir to.

Mothers ! Mothers !! Mothers !!! Are you disturbed at night and broker of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cut-ting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor little sufferer im-mediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mether, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of Curtis & Perkins is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Beware of imitations.

ELEGANT HAIR is woman's crowning beauty. When it fades she fades as well. While it is kept bright, her personal attractions are still maintained. By preserving the hair fresh and vigorous a youthful appearance is continued through many years. Those who grieve over their fading hair turning gray too early, should know that Ayer's Hair Vigor prevents it, and restores gray or faded hair to its natural color. It is a clear and healthful preparation, containing neither oil, for preparation, containing neither oil, dye, nor anything deleterious, and imparis to the scalp what is most needed—a sense of pleasant and delightful freedom from scuri or dandruff.—New Berne (N. C.) Telegraphy (1998).

PALATABLE MEDICINES.-Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a honeyed drop of relief; his Cathartic Pills glide sugar shod over the palate; and his Sarsaparilla is a nectar that imparts vigor to life, restores the health and expels disease.—Waterford (Pa.)
